

Sirs: If New Jersey's "Do Not Call List" is more stringent than the Federal one, and we are LESS subject to these irritating, unnecessary and intrusive calls, then the fault is NOT New Jersey's- the fault, if any, is that the Federal list is too forgiving and generous. ZERO tolerance is the way to go- STRENGTHEN the Federal lists to conform to NJ, don't weaken New Jersey's laws.

If thousands of telemarketers are forced to find honest, decent, non-invasive work elsewhere, that is FINE with me. There is NO reason for these miserable calls to be permitted. Please, leave New Jersey's laws alone!!
